

COVER NOTE
Holiday Homework

Classes IV & V

Dear Parents,

*Popsicles and splashes bright,
Running through the pure sunlight.
Kites that fly and songs we sing,
Oh, what joy the summer brings!*

As the warmth of summer begins to glow, we at Bal Bharati Public School welcome this cheerful season as a time for joy, discovery, and meaningful learning beyond the classroom. Summer offers a beautiful opportunity to nurture curiosity, creativity, and responsibility in children through simple, everyday experiences.

This year's holiday homework is thoughtfully designed around key themes from the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals—specifically SDG 2: Zero Hunger and SDG 15: Life on Land. Through fun and purposeful activities, children will explore the importance of healthy food, reducing food waste, growing plants, protecting animals, and caring for our environment. These projects aim to help children think globally and act locally—with compassion and awareness.

At Bal Bharati, we promote a holistic and interdisciplinary learning approach—where science, art, math, language, and values come together in exciting, hands-on ways. Baking becomes a fun math activity, gardening reveals science in action, and a family discussion about food waste builds both awareness and empathy.

Encourage your child to explore, observe, and reflect—through books, nature walks, sketching, storytelling, and small acts of kindness. Let's also maintain a healthy balance between screen time and real-world exploration. This is a wonderful time for dancing, doodling, building, playing, and having meaningful family conversations.

Let this summer be a season of curiosity, creativity, care—and learning that lasts a lifetime. Here's to making memories, discovering new ideas, and becoming thoughtful young changemakers!

Regards
